KANSAS MAN KILLS HIMSELF.

G. W. Poole Takes His Life Because He Could No Longer Race.

Los Angeles Cal., April 19.—De-condency over ill fortune with his orses this season and grief over the passage of the California anti-gam-bing law caused G. W. Poole, famil-larly known as "Bishop," one of the oldest and most widely known horsemen in the country, to commit suicide at Santa Anita track.

The suicide was committed in Poole's stable on the track grounds. He slashed his wrist with a razor, and, to make death sure, took a dose of

HARRIS MANIFESTO

State Employment Agent Calls on City Clerks.

Asks for the Co-operation in Supplying Harvest Hands.

That the Democrats were in no way dismayed by the results of the elecshown by tion in Kansas last fall . the fact that they are now working to establish a state organ in Topeka in the shape of a weekly paper and have called a meeting in Wichita with the object of starting a big daily newspaper in that city.

Charles Harris, director of the state free employment bureau, is sending out letters to the city clerks of the state asking them to comply with the law and assist him in providing harvest hands for the state for the coming season. The legislature of 1901 passed a law making the city clerk the city employment agent and requiring him to assist the state agent. No compensation is provided for this extra work and many city clerks have refused to render any assistance whatever. One notable exception is that of City Clerk Burge of this city, who, during the past year, has paid particular attention to this section of the law and maintains an active and efficient free employment agency in connection with the city clerk's office.

In reply to a letter from a Columbus bank asking if it could be allowed to call itself the "Guaranteed State Bank." Call itself the "Guaranteed State Bank," Commissioner Dolley has declared that no state bank: will be permitted to use the word "guaranty" or "guaranteed" in connection with its official name. The state bank commissioner, however, in draws a pretty fine line of distinction when he says that while the law prothists any state bank from advertising that its deposits are protected by the state, yet declares that it can advertise that it is a member of the guaranty association and has the protection of the fund. What is the difference between what is prohibited and what is not in this interpretation of the law, not in this interpretation of the law, pray tell?

News of a political nature being scarce at this time the newspaper writers of the state are many of them engaged in a controversy over the re-spective merits of the books, the White Company by Conan Doyle and Ivanhoe by Sir Walter Scott. The Emporia Gazette, Hutchinson News, Osborne Farmer, Kansas City Journal and State Journal have all taken a hand in the scrap and the end of this New York, April 19.—The largest candle ever manufactured is destined to Morgan has not read the White Com-Ala; its southern terminals penetrating to the gulf at Galveston and New Orleans, and its western lines tapping Denver and New Mexico—the Rock island-Frisco comprises a system of such vast extent that its importance can not at once be grasped. The 14,500 miles of the system cover half the United States. They touch the most denso traffic areas, such as Chicago, St. Louis and permeate with an intricate mesh of baranch lires the richest agricultural and mineral producing sections of the nation.

These states are developing today with phenomenal rapidity. Especially is this true in the more westerly section, where irrigation is making the desert to thrive. This department has read Scott's novels until it knows them by heart; and there is not one character in them that appeals to the Fat One like Sir without reproach, who wanders through the pages of "The White Company." In the creation of this character Conan Doyle performed the imsigned, after a three days' conference between the members of the executive committee of the Southwestern Coal Operators' association and the executive board of the United Mine Workers of district 14.

The dispute regarding dynamite came up following the passage of a state law by the last legislature limiting the use of dynamite in the coal mines and the adoption of a clause in the joint agreement forbidding the use of dynamite excepting on the consent of the mine foreman. In some cases the mine foreman absolutely prohibits the use of dynamite and trouble followed, resulting in strikes and suspensions at several shafts. books in succession can taste iron fil-ings and red whiskers for six months. Northwest weather clear and cool. Chicago cloudy, sprinkling, cold.

Chicago, April 19.—The Record-Her-ald says: "The leading bull in wheat continues as buillish as at any time during the last six months and he during the last six months and he be-lieves that his often previously ex-pressed views of a domestic situation in wheat will be made good sooner and more emphatically that he had reason to believe to the last few weeks. He said: The situation abroad on wheat said: The situation abroad on wheat is becoming as acute as it is in America and while newspapers try to make something sensational out of the situation it will not affect prices very much regardless of their opinions or any individual opinion in the market. The scarcity of supplies will assert itself regardless of anybody. The supplies will assert itself regardless of anybody. itself regardless of anybody. The sup-plies of corn are light and we see no possibility of any particular increase in receipts until after corn planting and it would not surprise us to see higher prices for corn. The same ap-plies to oats. There is no one in particular who has any interest in the oats
